The 45th Springtime Peony Blossom Festival in Ueno Toshogu Peony Garden

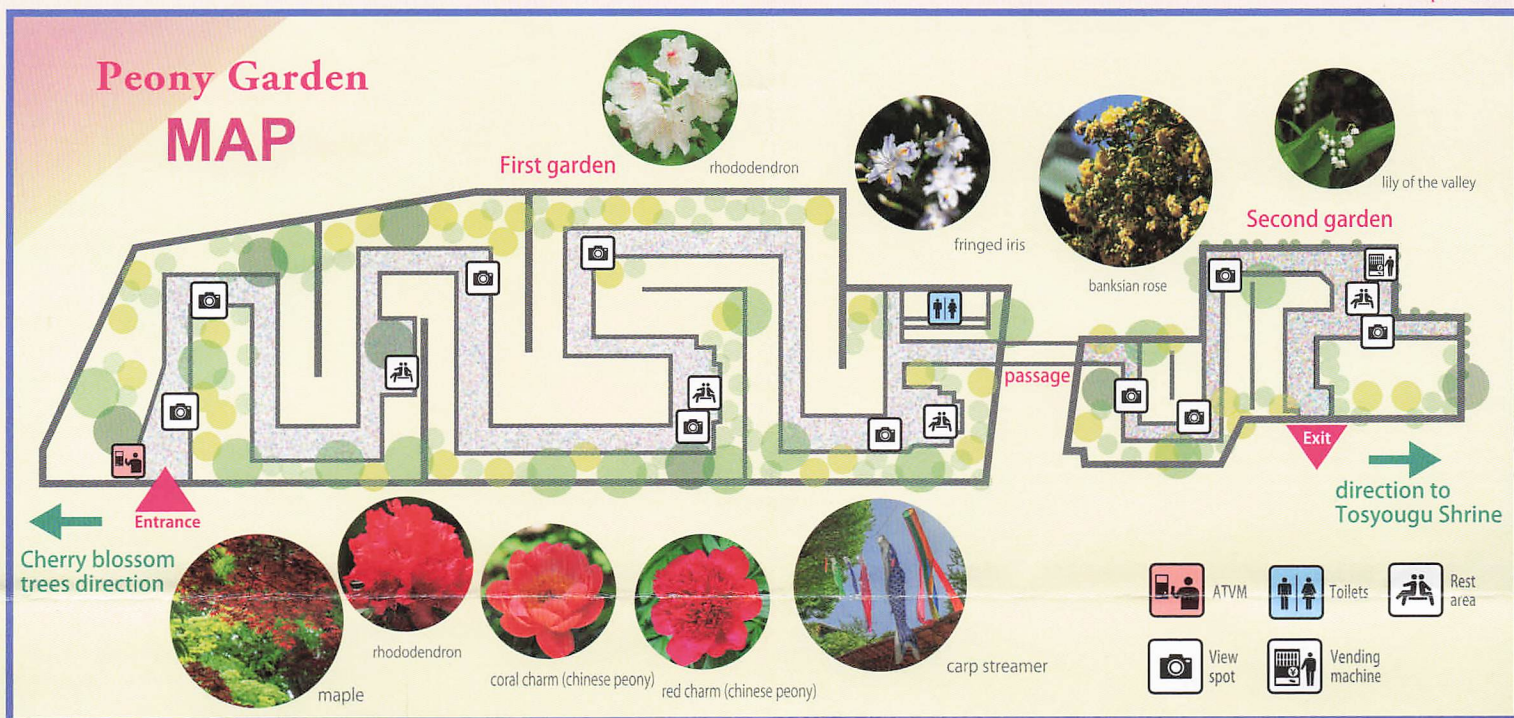

Springtime Peony Blossom Festival

Springtime Peony Blossom Festival is held from mid-April to mid-May. Inside the garden filled with fresh green leaves, there are 500 peonies in a beautiful display of color and variety, such as over 40 years old tree in Karensansui (a traditional Japanese dry landscape garden) and peonies made in China, America and Europe. Visitors also can enjoy many other spring flowers including Chinese peony, bleeding heart, and rhododendron.

“King of the Hundred Floweres”

The peony originates from China. Since ancient times, it has been known as the “King of the Hundred Flowers”, so widely familiar with medical and ornamental plants. It is also called the “noble and wealthy” flower, and attracts widespread popularity as a blessed flower that brings people wealth, prosperity, fame and fortune.
